

News Story - International Nurses Day

To celebrate International Nurses Day, we were delighted to welcome two special nurses into our nursery. They spoke to the children about their important roles, sharing where they work, the equipment they use, and how they help people every day. The children listened with great interest and asked thoughtful questions as they learned about caring for others.

The children then took part in an interactive activity exploring the role of a nurse. They looked closely at a real first aid kit and compared it with the items in our role-play area. This hands-on experience encouraged curiosity, communication, and a deeper understanding of how nurses help keep us safe and healthy.

To end the session, the children watched a short video about nurses and the many ways they care for people in hospitals and the community. It was a meaningful experience that sparked wonderful conversations throughout the day.

Our toddlers also joined in the excitement of International Nurses Day. They welcomed the visiting nurses and enjoyed listening to them talk about their jobs and demonstrate how they help people who are hurt or unwell. The children were fascinated by the equipment and loved seeing how nurses use them to care for others.

To celebrate the day, the toddlers made their own special 'thank-you' cards. They decorated them beautifully and added their own little messages inside, learning more about who nurses are and why their work is so important.
